SOUTHERN STATESMEN

The recent elevation of Senator Walter F. George to chairmanship of the important Senate Foreign Affairs Committee, is but another honor to a distinguished group of Southern statesmen. Southern statesmen are in the middle in Washington in many top jobs. Senator George is chairman of the appropriations committee, Senator Pat Harrison heads the Finance Committee. Seven out of ten ranking committee chairmen in the House of Representatives will be held by Southerners. In the Senate, the South will have six out of nine top chairmanships. Of all the standing committees, the South will have 17 out of 28 chairmanships in the Senate and 18 out of 45 in the House, although less than one third of the states are in the South. And to that speaker, the Senate majority leader and the Senate Democratic whip.

This is largely due to the seniority rule and the fact that the South keeps its leaders in office longer than other sections.

WHAT IS AHEAD?

It is becoming more and more apparent that trouble is brewing in Italy. Mussolini is losing his grip on the Italian people, his army and the confidence of his German ally. It is not far fetched to guess that 1941 will see the departure of Il Duce. The procedure will be for a German plot with Italian army heads for a revolution to replace Mussolini. Who will be the Italian head? Muss. of us would like to see the King return to power, but the guess would be a figurehead puppet of Hitler.

Another guess: calm heads inside Germany probably realize that the war is going to be a long war, and that it is to Germany's advantage to pause for a year and consolidate the gains already made. Germany does not need new enemies. She needs to keep enough planes and submarines to defend herself while Germany catches up on the gains already made. So, look to Italy and England for the headlines.

JESUS TEACHES HIS DISCIPLES TO PRAY

LESSON TEXT—Luke 11:1-13

GOLDEN TEXT—And if ye shall call on me, saying, Lord, thou art my Father, thou shalt be called my Father, and thou shalt be called my Father.

Teach us to pray.

The request of the apostles was not that He should teach them how to pray, for He had already done that (see Matt. 6:9-13) in the Sermon on the Mount. They needed, however, to be taught how to pray, how to learn how to pray, but actually to pray. Prayer is more talked about than practiced. We discuss the doctrine of prayer, the time of prayer, the manner of prayer, posture in prayer, but how much do we really pray?

This is a very important and plain question which we must face personally. "Do I pray, or do I only talk about praying?" Let us not try to dodge it or excuse ourselves; let us face it honestly, do something about it, and know God's richer and fuller blessing for our lives.

We have in our lesson, I. A Principle of Prayer (v. 9).

The one who has a right to call God "Father" (v. 9) has a right to come and "ask" God for whatever he needs. God expects His children to ask, and many "have not, because ye ask not" (James 4:2). Give God a chance to answer you by asking, but be sure to ask right, not for your own selfish purposes. The Jameses' prayer is also a seeker—he doesn't ask and run away empty-handed—he persists. He not only "seeks," but he "knocks" at God's door, and he gets in. He has a faith—expectancy, and often persistence—all essential in real prayer.

II. The Promise of Prayer (v. 9-13).

Here is the promise of our Lord. We are quick to claim the promises of our friends, business associates, or in claiming the promises of God. Can it be that we have less confidence in Him than we have in our neighbor? Asking means receiving, seeking results in finding, knocking brings the open door of His blessing. Why not do it?

God is our Father. Even a man is rightly called the "father" of his children. He is loving and considerate. He will not let his children go without every good thing. In fact, the Holy Spirit Himself is ours in His fullness, and in Him there is every other gift.

III. A Parable Concerning Prayer (v. 5-8).

The point of this story is that we should be persistent in prayer. Importunity carries with it a sense of being troublesome, bothering someone until the desired result is attained. God encourages His child to give up a bold which does not give up (see Luke 10:10; Matt. 15:25-28). If a man who is only a stranger to him, will not our Father, who "neither slumbers nor sleeps," who knows and loves us all, meet our deep spiritual need? Indeed He will, "exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think" (Eph. 3:20).

IV. The Practice of Prayer (v. 14).

There is no one who can teach us to pray better than Jesus, for He has practiced what He preached. He prayed. It was seeing Him pray that led the disciples to ask Him to teach them to pray. To profess is one thing, but it is far better to practice. The teacher who does not himself pray, though able to say but little, will cause many to say, "Teach me to pray."

For the practice of prayer, Jesus taught His disciples a model prayer. This does not mean that this is the only prayer to be offered, nor is it the only form of prayer. As suggested, it is rather a model. This prayer opens with a recognition of God as Father, followed by a reverent petition that His name may be hallowed; that is, that He may have glory as His will is done and His kingdom established in the spiritual life and attitude are revealed. The man outside of the kingdom of the Son of God's love, however, does not get forgiveness, unless he has forgiven" (Matt. 6:14, 15; Mark 11:25). "Nothing more surely destroys communion than the unforgiving spirit" (Matt. 6:14, 15; Mark 11:25). The ground on which God forgives us, but it is the condition of our enjoying God's forgiveness (Eph. 1:7, 4:32) (Bradbury).

And, like every other average man, my opinion is of no importance. They are important because the opinions of the average man are what makes the world go round. They are important because the opinions of the average man are what makes the world go round. They are important because the opinions of the average man are what makes the world go round.
